

TROUBLE FOR STUDENTS WHO VISITED GIRLS' HALL

Columbia's Sophomore Class Faces Expulsion of Several Members.

WHOLE CLASS MAY SUFFER

Suggested That It Be Cut Off From All Social Activities.

The sophomore class of Columbia found itself in a hot water again when it woke up yesterday morning and discovered that the university officers were running down the list of a raid which they made at Brooks Hall, the dormitory for Barnard College girls, late last Wednesday night after the sophomore triumph on the university campus.

Dean Keppel and F. D. Gaekenthal, secretary of the university, agreed yesterday that something would happen to the leaders of the raid that would deter such midnight parties in the future by suspending classes. It is probable that some of the girls will be expelled if they can be found, and that punishment of some sort or another will be given to the class as a whole.

Department Suggests to Curtail Private Practice.

It is possible that Police Commissioner Waldo will issue an order bidding the police surgeons to cut down their private practice to a minimum where there will be no possibility of its interfering with their routine work as surgeons to the department. That such an order might be issued was not denied at the Commissioner's office yesterday, but it was said that it had not been issued yet.

Commissioner Waldo's desire to put a check upon the police surgeons is a result of the report made by Commissioner of Accounts Fosdick as to the large number of policemen retired on police surgeons' certificates. In this report he says that while he could get no legal proof of secured evidence that money has been paid to secure a certificate.

It is thought that perhaps Commissioner Waldo wishes to discipline the police surgeons to a bit. There are twenty-five assigned to take care of policemen. Marvin R. Palmer being the chief surgeon, and each receives $3,500 a year. They can be retired on a pension at the end of twenty-five years service.

Commissioner Fosdick in his report said that some of the service of the surgeons seemed to be at times of a most perfunctory sort. He said that "the sick list might be substantially reduced by increased attention on the part of the police surgeons."

The surgeons held a meeting yesterday afternoon in Dr. Palmer's office in Police Headquarters, and although several of them admitted that they had heard rumors of an order affecting them they knew nothing definite about it. Dr. Palmer said he had not heard of the order and that the meeting was one of routine and signified nothing unusual.

CELL FOR SENATOR'S DRIVER.

Senator O'Gorman's Chauffeur Locked Up for Reckless Driving.

Frank Hallett, chauffeur for United States Senator James A. O'Gorman, was locked up last night on charges of reckless driving, intoxication and disorderly conduct. Senator O'Gorman and his family were all in Washington and at a late hour last night a member of the Senator's household said he guessed Hallett would have to stay in the station house until morning.

Lieut. Joseph Meehan and Policeman Morton of the West 125th street station were standing at 125th street and Broadway at 9 o'clock last night when a limousine car came up the street at a rate that appeared to them to be fifty miles an hour and stopped at a nearby restaurant. When the driver, who was alone in the car, jumped out Lieut. Meehan walked up and asked him what he meant by driving through the street at such a rate.

"What the hell business is it of yours?" the driver said to have replied. "I'll make it my business," said Lieut. Meehan.

"Well, you just go ahead and let it if you want to get into trouble," the driver replied. "I'm Senator O'Gorman's chauffeur and I guess he's somewhere. You don't dare to arrest me. You'll be out of a job if you do."

By this time the crowd had gathered and the driver's remarks were boomed by the crowd. The driver continued to abuse the policemen. His language caused women who had gathered to hurry out of earshot. The chauffeur was taken to the station house, where he gave his name, said he was 22 years old and that he lived at 311 West 125th street.

At Senator O'Gorman's home, 318 West 125th street, it was said that Hallett had been employed by the Senator for about a year and had been regarded as sober and careful. He has never driven the car in Washington.

LAUNCH BIGGEST SHIP TO-DATE.

Kaiser to Be Present When the Imperator Goes Into the Water.

The new Hamburg-American liner Imperator will be launched to-morrow at Hamburg in the presence of the German Kaiser. The Imperator is the biggest vessel ever to be launched, being nearly 4,000 tons heavier than the Titanic and having a length of 600 feet, or more than four city blocks. She has a beam of 90 feet and her essential structure weighs 50,000 tons. She will have a Ritz restaurant and a swimming pool. She has a double bottom and coal bunkers at the sides, which gives her a double skin. She is equipped with a series of transverse bulkheads, which are closed by hydraulic power controlled from the bridge.

Capt. Hans Ruser, the veteran of the line, will bring her over in the spring of 1913. Capt. Ruser formerly served in the German navy, but has been in the employ of the Hamburg-American Line since 1890.

The Imperator will be driven by Parsons quadruple turbine engines. Her engine properties will give her an average rate of 22½ knots.

CATECHISM REPORT ACCEPTED.

Presbyterians Plan Further Modifications of Ancient Document.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 21.—After failing to finish consideration of the report of the special committee on an intermediate catechism at the session of the general assembly on Monday afternoon it was again brought up this morning and approved.

A resolution was adopted continuing the committee and advising that it receive suggestions regarding the improvement of the catechism and make such revisions as may be proved acceptable. The committee will report again in 1913 at Atlanta.

The purpose of this intermediate catechism is to provide in simple terms a series of questions and answers longer and more complete than what is known as the "Shorter Catechism" and at the same time more adaptable to the needs of children in Sunday schools.

The most prominent member of the class is Herman Oetrich, who has taken a more or less active part in the affairs of the class, but he was not at the triumph and is not implicated in any way.

The triumph of the college division is James Howard Purdy, Jr., the class crew and other members of the crew are now seated regularly in the varsity eight.

The class has been in difficulty right along this spring, and only last week Purdy and his associates were expelled from the college division for charges occurring at the time of the sophomore show last winter. The hotel threatened to bring suit if the bill wasn't paid within two days, and when the student board heard about it the sophomores were told that they would have to pay the bill or face suspension from the university. They squeezed out of that scrape, but it is doubtful if they will be able to get out of this one as easily.

SCALDED TO DEATH BY NURSE?

Case of Young Zuckerman May Be Taken Up by School Directors.

VINELAND, N. J., May 21.—The directors of the Training School for Feeble-Minded Children are expected at their session here to-morrow to inquire into the death on May 16 of Elijah Zuckerman, 17 years old, alleged to have been scalded to death through carelessness or worse. It is charged that on May 11 a scalding shower was turned on him in his bath by one of the nurses.

It is admitted by Superintendent Edward R. Johnston that the scalds were received, and that they caused death, but he insists it was an accident. He was not at the home when the injuries were received by Zuckerman, but he says he has made a thorough investigation.

Mrs. Minnie Zuckerman of 776 Lincoln avenue, Brooklyn, mother of the dead boy, alleges that he was mistreated and cites as evidence a blackened eye she noticed her son had when she went to see him just before his death.

Assistant Supt. Nash wrote a letter to the superintendent expressing the belief that Zuckerman had been under a scalding shower by a fellow inmate, but the superintendent says that belief is without foundation. He also denies a report that when the youth became unmanageable in the midst of a frenzy he was cast into a tub of scalding water to subdue him.

The report that the police had recovered some more of the loot that they think they will be able to prove Curtis stole started a number of Harlem folk toward the West 125th street police station. They looked at the trunk full of silverware and then glimpsed the jewels admiringly, but no one came who could pick out anything that had belonged to him or her.

The police are not telling how they learned the name of the bank, except to say that during the time before his arrest when they were trailing Curtis he was seen entering the Colonial Bank on two occasions. At the bank it was understood that a woman who had been sharing the good fortune of Curtis while it lasted had let the police know where they might find some things of value. When it was put up to Curtis he admitted that he had the safe deposit vault, but he wouldn't give his consent that it be opened, and without that a court order the bank officials said they would not permit any one to examine the vault.

Curtis was arraigned before Magistrate Freschi in the Harlem police court yesterday morning and held in $5,000 bail for the grand jury on charges of burglary and having burglar's tools in his possession. The Magistrate was asked if he wouldn't give an order to the bank people to allow the police to examine the vault, and he said he would. Then Curtis said that he would go to the bank himself and open the vault. So no order was needed, and in the company of Capt. Tunney and several detectives he went to the bank.

What the police found astonished them. Here is the list as they handed it out: Gold lavalliere with six large and forty small diamonds, the gold chain set with two diamonds.

Gold crescent brooch with twenty-one diamonds.

Gold ring with three large diamonds and two small diamonds.

Gold ring with one emerald and six diamonds.

Gold bar pin with fifteen diamonds.

Two gold chains with three large and four small diamonds.

Set of four neck ornaments of gold, set with thirty diamonds.

Gold double watch chain, set with diamonds.

Lady's gold cigarette case.

Lady's gold match box.

Amber cigar holder with gold band.

Small gold ring with small diamond.

Lady's gold chain with sixteen large, rough pearls.

Twelve gold vest buttons studded with pearls.

Id's gold chain slide with seven small diamonds.

Sixty-six pieces of battered or broken gold.

The property was recovered at 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and after the list was made up was taken to the property clerk at Police Headquarters. Curtis will be taken to the Tombs this morning. When the detectives in the bank remarked that he had made a fine haul he replied that he had brought the whole lot of it for $200 from the man who had stolen it.

Curtis hardly looks the part of the gentleman burglar, as the police have styled him. He says he is 21 years old, but when he was arrested in 1908 he gave his age as 20, which would make him 34 now. He is five feet tall and weighs 130 pounds. His physique belies his strength, however. The police found pictures of him in his room which indicate that he is a physical culturist. Some sort of one of the detectives said yesterday he believed the man was as strong as he could wrench apart the iron bars that ordinarily guard treasure in private residences.

In looking through the man's record the police have found that in 1907, when Curtis was nabbed for a job at the school of the Misses Lockwood in Scarsdale, N. Y., he adopted the same methods as he is alleged to have used in the recent robberies attributed to him. On that occasion he gained admittance to the school because of his good clothes and natty appearance. He got away then with several thousand dollars worth of jewels belonging to the previous owner, daughter of Morgan J. O'Brien, and Miss Grace McCormack. He was sentenced to Sing Sing for 6 years and 6 months for that and was released on October 2, 1911.

The detectives who have been working on the case declare that there was no woman associated with Curtis this time, as there has been in previous robberies when he has attracted the attention of the police. They say he had a room alone in the apartment house at 205 West 111th street and that they found nothing there that would indicate he had any accomplices.

Schoolman's Run Down by Auto.

Miss Irene Walsh, 24 years old, a school-teacher living at 182 Barclay street, flushing, Queens, was run down last night by an automobile in that village and severely injured. She was crossing the street at Madison and Wilson avenues when she was struck by an automobile owned and operated by William Wooster of O'Leary street.

She suffered a compound fracture of the right leg and contusions of the head. She was taken to the Flushing Hospital.

BRANDT ORDERED BACK TO STATE PRISON

Federal Court Declines to Grant a Writ of Habeas Corpus.

APPELLATE DIVISION ACTS

State Court Says That He Cannot Be Freed Again on Bail.

Felix E. Brandt, the former valet for Mortimer L. Schiff, must go back to Clinton Prison at once under an order of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court yesterday denying the motion by Brandt's counsel to admit him to bail pending the appeal to the Court of Appeals and for a stay of proceedings for thirty days, in which time the Court of Appeals will probably determine the case.

Under the rules Mirabeau L. Towns, counsel for Brandt, will have two days time for the settlement of the order, so that the temporary restraining order issued by the Appellate Division pending the decision on the application for bail will not be vacated until to-morrow. It is expected that a representative of Warder Kaiser of Clinton Prison will call at the Tombs to-morrow for Brandt as soon as the order is filed.

The opinion of the Appellate Division, which was by the entire court, stated that the statute under which Brandt's counsel asked for the stay of proceedings and admission to bail provided that "where a prisoner who stands charged with an offense, specified in the last section, has perfected an appeal to the Court of Appeals from a final order of the Supreme Court, affirming an order refusing his discharge or reversing an order granting his discharge, the court, from whom the appeal is taken, or a judge thereof, must, upon his application, admit him to bail as prescribed in the last section."

It is held under the conviction of a court of competent jurisdiction and is serving out his sentence under said judgment," said the court. "We therefore think the court has no power to admit the prisoner to bail pending the appeal. No reason is shown why an order staying the proceedings should be granted."
